TO MY PATRONS :

In handing you my Catalogue for 1875, I do so with pleasure, believing that you will find it to contain everything of utility, both for in-door and out-door culture. Having since last spring bought the premises and stock of Mr. Cyrus Macy, and still occupying the greenhouses of Mr. James Clark, I have now as varied a stock as perhaps any Florist between New York and Albany, and my extended facilities have given me the opportunity to grow very fine plants, which I offer at unusually low prices. I cordially ask an examination of my stock, by anyone, whether wishing to purchase or not, and a careful comparison of the quality and size of plants as well as prices with the Catalogues of all the leading florists of the country. I am also prepared at all times to furnish cut flowers, wreathes, crosses, anchors, crowns and other designs for funerals, &c., and boquets and flowers for wedding parties, and all occasions, upon short notice and in any quantity. My greenhouses are situated on the corner of South Second, Allen and Partition Streets, near the R. R. Depots, Steamboat landings and Ferry, and also on the north side of Underhill pond. Orders by mail or telegraph promptly attended to and filled as well as if the person ordering was present. Terms, Cash. Orders from unknown parties unless accompanied by remittance or city references will be sent C. O. D. by express. No charge for packing or delivery to any part of the city, or to boats or cars. The usual discount to the trade.
